Dear Mr Tanner,

In reply to your letter of 14th May, my solicitors have not been instructed to deal with any possible litigation regarding Mr. Howell and his Sumo, and so they naturally haven't replied to you.

Everything written by Mr. Howell in Which Kit? was true and correct, and I am happy that Mr. Howell's experiences with you have been reported as such.

You might be interested to know that I have a statement from TMC Gaspower Ltd, the garage that looks after Mr. Howell's car, stating categorically that its mechanic did NOT replace the car's brake master cylinder – he actually replaced the clutch master cylinder. The garage apologises for issuing an erroneous invoice.

Yours sincerely,

Peter Filby
